Fall Section Meeting

In Shannon O'Brien's words: "What an amazing Mid-Atlantic Section meeting!" Everyone did such a great job and there were so many generous contributions. Sophia Dengo was the chair of the event, hosted by Jane Toskes, with support from so many—

From the friendships started at the Friday social to the great meeting accommodations and incredible snacks and lunch on Saturday. There was an insightful talk by Rayliene Banks, who recently flew C-17s and KC-135s for Air Force and explored why women make up such a small percentage of pilots. The incredible scholarship raffle prizes (much of the swag was obtained by Shannon O'Brien) raised over $1800! Some of our sponsors:

Corbi Bullock, International Ninety-Nines President, talked about the following:

The 99s now have a 3-year strategic plan—for surveys, utilizing volunteer and professional human resources to achieve its goals, promote the organization, and communicate with members. We want to make sure leadership knows what its members are doing, and help focus on the best practices in meeting our objectives. We've increased membership by 5% in the past year, and last year's membership survey registered an 8.5 as a satisfaction rate. This is very good, but we can still increase it.

We're looking to redesign the website and develop leadership on-boarding so that our elected and appointed leaders have guidance when they take their leadership roles. In addition, we are pursuing a mentorship program that links 99s. We're exploring recruitment and retention with a full-time advertising position.

At Oshkosh this past year, we got 110 new members. (MY NOTE: in large part due to Sophia Dengo's manning of the booth).

Barb Gruber, Section Treasurer, announced that our own Meaghan Cohen received a $5000 scholarship for CFI training. CONGRATULATIONS to Meaghan!!!

Airmarking Update 0W3

On Wednesday, October 26, additional paint was located—the crew at 0W3 sprayed another layer of paint on the compass rose. All that needs to be done now are the “N, S, E, W” 3-foot letters on the points—which will hopefully be done this Saturday, October 30. The compass rose turned out perfectly and will be a lasting addition to the airport—
